Guidelines for Museum Class Visits

• Please leave backpacks, large bags, coats, umbrellas, and athletic equipment in locker area adjacent to the Museum lobby before entering the galleries.

• No food or drinks (including water bottles) are allowed in the Museum or the Carson Teaching Gallery.

• Only pencils (and not pens) are permitted in the Museum and the Carson Teaching Gallery.

• No touching of the artwork is permitted without permission and supervision by museum staff. Please keep a safe distance from the artwork and do not point with any objects (including pencils) other than your hands.

• Photography of permanent collection objects is permitted only for private, non-commercial use. Posting online is not permitted without special permission from Museum staff. Note: objects on loan may not be photographed.

How to See and Learn More about Objects in the Collection

Making appointments to see objects in storage or to view Museum object files
We invite you to spend time with any work of art in our collection of over 17,000 objects, plus an additional 7,000 objects at the Skinner Museum! To see a work of art not currently on view or to see an object file for anything in our collection, please send an email to Kendra Weisbin at the address below at least one week to set up an appointment.

Kendra Weisbin, Assistant Curator of Education

Not sure what you want to see?
You can search the Museum’s Collections Database of over 24,000 works of art:

http://museums.fivecolleges.edu

Note the object numbers provided in the database entries of the works you would like to see – these are the numbers that start “MH” or “SK.” Once you have a list of objects, please email the numbers to the address listed above to make an appointment during normal office hours (Tuesday-Friday, 9:00 am–5:00 pm.)
